Sen. Johnson Asks Change in Censure Motion

McCarthy Enters Hospital; Debate May Be Suspended

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders today tentatively agreed to recess the McCarthy censure session until Monday or until Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy recovers from an ailing elbow.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) today proposed a change in the censure resolution against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy to meet arguments that a rebuke would dampen future congressional investigations of communism.

Johnson, a member of the special committee which recommended censure of McCarthy on two counts, offered the amendment as Senate Republican leaders canvassed sentiment on whether to suspend debate on the censure case pending McCarthy's return.

McCarthy entered the Bethesda, Md., Naval Hospital Wednesday for treatment of an injured elbow. Authorities said he may be there several days.

The Johnson amendment states that it is "the sense of the Senate" that the Communist Party of the United States is "not a domestic political party in the traditional sense" but is part of an international conspiracy.

This conspiracy poses a "deadly menace to the United States," the amendment says, and "appropriate committees" should continue to "diligently investigate, expose and combat" the conspiracy and members of it.

McCarthy's supporters have argued that the censure movement grew out of a Communist-instigated fight against McCarthy and that censoring him would discourage future investigations of communism. Before offering his amendment, Johnson said that he had intended to make a statement today on the censure recommendations, but had been informed that McCarthy is "quite ill."

Johnson said he would postpone making his speech because he did not feel that a statement "contrary to his (McCarthy's) interests" would be "proper under the circumstances."

Senate leaders were disposed to call a temporary halt to the debate if they encountered any objection to continuing in McCarthy's absence.

GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) told newsmen he thought the debate should continue without McCarthy "only in event it is agreeable to the various parties" concerned, including the pro-McCarthy forces and the six-man committee which recommended censure of the Wisconsin senator.

McCarthy cut his elbow in Milwaukee last weekend when his arm was forced against a glass-top table while he was shaking hands with admirers. He was admitted to the nearby Bethesda, Md., Naval Medical Center and officials said he might have to remain for several days if he did not respond to treatment.

Mayors to Meet At Herrin to Form Area Ass'n

HERRIN, Ill. (AP)—Mayor Dave H. Miller has invited mayors from 55 southern Illinois cities to meet here tonight to form a Southern Illinois mayors association.

Miller said if the formation is completed officers and committees will be named. Plans call for a non-profit corporation charter for the group.

Mayors from more than 20 area cities met here in September to lay groundwork for the organization. That meeting also passed resolutions urging completion of Devil's Kitchen Dam to relieve water shortages for some communities and a retail sales tax of 1-2 per cent to aid municipalities having financial troubles.

THE OHIO RIVER BRIDGE AT SHAWNEETOWN continues its strides forward, as above pictures reveal. Photo on the right shows four of the five huge piers located on the Illinois side between the levee and the river's edge. Two other piers can be seen, both rising from the water, and the foundation for a third is in the process of construction. Similar headway has been made on the Kentucky side. Picture at the left shows the bridge support atop the levee. In the background can be seen the historic old Shawneetown bank building located on the levee. This landmark will help many visualize the location of the new bridge under construction—just a stone's throw south of the state's first bank. No physical work has commenced on the Illinois approach. The bridge is scheduled for completion in November 1955.

WABASH MEMORIAL BRIDGE construction is making rapid progress, as can be seen in the above photos. The bridge, linking Illinois and Indiana, is being built near New Haven, Ill., and Mt. Vernon, Ind. The project is actually ahead of schedule at this point and barring major difficulty should be completed well before the target date of next September, officials have stated. However, approaches to the bridge, both on the Illinois and Indiana side, are being let under separate contract and actual work on these is not expected to commence before next spring. Besides the elevated approaches, each state must build approximately seven miles of highway. It has been estimated by officials that the approaches will cost more than the $2½ million bridge itself. Picture on the left shows the five big steel-reinforced concrete supports on the Illinois side leading up to a 26-foot roadway with a two-foot curb on each side. State Highway 141, leading from route 1 north of Omaha, in Gallatin county, eastward to New Haven, will be extended to the water's edge. Photo on the right reveals work in progress on foundations of two similar supports which will rise from the river itself. The 2400-foot toll bridge will have a northwesterly direction to connect with the approach of the Wabash Memorial bridge, the State Highway Department has reported. The connection with the present highway will be made at a point west of New Haven and the extended route will cross the Little Wabash river north of New Haven over a proposed new bridge, according to present plans.

Caravan to Protest Gov. Stratton's Proposed Illinois Turnpike System

CHICAGO (AP) — A caravan of citizens was scheduled to leave for Springfield today to protest Gov. William Stratton's proposed billion dollar state turnpike system.

Three separate studies just completed on the feasibility of Stratton's proposed 468 miles of toll turnpikes were locked up Wednesday night in the Chicago office of the Illinois Toll Highway Commission.

Democratic State Rep. Jack Baird, of the 8th District, protested when he was denied access to the reports.

He said Evan Howell, Commission chairman, promised him earlier that he could see the reports when they were completed.

Urges Court Action
Howell said, however, that the reports will not be made public until Stratton makes them public.

Baird said he urged Deerfield citizens to seek protection from the courts in their fight to block construction of the toll road through their village.

Deerfield citizens, and another delegation from Western Springs, said they would journey to Springfield today to make their protests known to the governor.

The reports which were submitted to the Toll Road Commission Wednesday night were:

1. A civil engineering report on construction costs, prepared by Joseph K. Knoerle & Associates.

2. An appraisal of the real estate to be acquired as right of ways, prepared by Ronald J. Chinnock, Morgan L. Fitch, and Hugh Michaels, Chicago realtors.

To Determine Revenue, Costs
3. An estimate of the revenue which could be expected from toll collections on the routes, prepared by the New York City engineering firm of Parsons, Brinkerhoff, Hall & MacDonald, and the New Haven, Conn., firm of Wilbur Smith & Associates.

The reports will determine the estimated revenue against the estimated costs, and the financial feasibility of the routes.

Home owners in Deerfield and other Chicago suburbs opposed the proposed toll roads from the beginning because they fear the roads will ruin residential neighborhoods.

Others have opposed Stratton's proposed toll roads in favor of free expressways.

Lost Items Quickly Recovered by Classified Ads

That doctor from Lawrenceville who lost his dog here last Saturday, was notified via long distance that Daily Register classified readers have found his dog. Lacy Hicks from Muddy, who found the black and white spotted bird dog, turned it over to the Humane shelter, where it is isolated for good health and awaits the arrival of the owner.

Those five lost cattle, cared for by Mont Scott at Stonefort, were restored to the owner through a 45c Daily Register classified.

That couple who advertised a single twin bed, sold it, and that sink with cabinet base, sold just as quick. Both were gone in a twinkling.

Whether it is something to eat, wear, fuel or a stove to burn it in, or a frozen food locker, you will find it in Daily Register classifieds. Right now it is the season of turkeys, capons and apples.

Hope somebody advertises backbones one of these days!

County Board Approves Budget, Appropriations and Tax Levy

In a regular meeting this morning members of the Saline County Board of Supervisors approved and passed the budget, appropriations and county tax levy for the fiscal year commencing Dec. 1.

The board also passed a resolution and approved a contract for renting the county farm to Annie Knickerbocker for an annual rental of $325. The contract is effective June 1, 1955, when the present contract expires. Present rent had notified the board he wished to move from the county property late next spring, it was said.

Another resolution passed was aimed at restricting parking on the court house driveway to authorized persons and the board chairman, Wm. Alfred Smith of Galatia, was authorized to issue stickers or certificates to those authorized to park on the driveway and the sheriff was instructed to enforce the resolution.

It was said, during the discussion, that the driveway has been used by unauthorized persons in the past, making it impossible for county officials to use the drive and parking places.

In other action the board accepted the resignation of Maynard Cannon, assistant supervisor of Harrisburg township, who is county treasurer-elect; approved a road and bridge building program for the coming year and will include road construction near Harco, repair of approximately 2 miles of the Billman road and construction of a bridge just off Rt. 45, on the east end of Fourth street, Eldorado—this bridge will be a 50-foot span and 30 feet wide; approved contracts for road repair in Eldorado, Stonefort and Galatia townships.

In another resolution, the board requested cooperation from the public utilities with township and county road commissioners in clearing road-rights-of-way when poles interfere with building and maintaining roads.

A transfer of funds in the amount of $800 from the fee earned account to the county treasurer's extra clerk hire account was also approved.

Fire Destroys Garage and Auto

A garage and 1950 Mercury in Buena Vista were completely destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon, Fire Chief Ray Johnson reported today.

The property, located in the extreme north part of Buena Vista, was owned by Verne and Calie Pearcey with Howard Pearcey the occupant and owner of the automobile.

Cause of the fire is unknown. Chief Johnson said he was told by Howard Pearcey that he came out of his house and found the garage burning.

Prompt action by the fire department saved the dwelling which was damaged just slightly.

Queen Mother Says Reluctant Goodbye to U. S.

NEW YORK (AP) — Queen Mother Elizabeth said reluctant goodbyes aboard the liner Queen Mary today just before she left for home, ending her 23-day visit to this country and Canada.

"I am truly sad that my visit has come to an end," the Queen Mother said in brief departure ceremonies.

"I assure you I shall take away with me the happiest memories of your hospitable land and of the many new friends I have made. I pray that our countries may go forward with deepening understanding, with courage to bear our common burdens and a firm resolve to uphold the ideals we hold so dear."

The Queen Mother came to this country Oct. 26 and spent nine days in and near New York before going to Washington Nov. 4 where she was a guest of President and Mrs. Eisenhower. Later she went to Canada. She flew back to New York late Wednesday.

Demos Outline Program for New Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic leaders outlined a legislative program for the new congress today with emphasis on a stronger defense and a flatter economy.

In an apparent move to grab the political initiative from President Eisenhower, the Democrats, who will control the 84th Congress, laid down their proposals for the new session without waiting to hear his.

Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman designate of the House Armed Services Committee, announced he will sponsor legislation to:

1. Step up the naval shipbuilding program, with emphasis on carriers, destroyers, submarines and expanded development of atomic power plants.

2. Extend the draft law two years and put teeth for the first time in the requirement that servicemen take an active part in the reserves after discharge.

3. Speed up expansion of the Air Force.

4. Raise military pay, and build houses for servicemen's families in a dual move to make the armed forces more attractive as a career.

Air Secretary Harold E. Talbot said in a Washington speech Wednesday that the Air Force will urge the new Congress to provide "across the board pay increases and other improvements" for servicemen.

Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.), house speaker-designate in the new Congress, told reporters Wednesday the Democrats will give priority to tax revision, a new farm law, a pay raise for government workers, and a three-year extension of the reciprocal trade law.

President Eisenhower, in accordance with custom, will announce his legislative goals in a State of the Union message to the new Congress shortly after it convenes on Jan. 5.

The Democrats, it was learned, jumped the gun on Mr. Eisenhower in a move to force him to take more responsibility for the cooperation both sides have agreed is necessary in a period when Democrats will control Congress and Republicans the White House.

Will Seek to Block Senate Confirmation

Nominee Admits He Is Not Certain About Dixon-Yates Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said today he will seek to block Senate confirmation of Willard F. Libby as an atomic energy commissioner until the dispute over the Dixon-Yates power contract is settled.

Kefauver made the statement as Libby appeared before Senate members of the joint House-Senate Atomic Energy committee considering Libby's nomination.

Libby, under questioning by Kefauver, admitted he was not "certain" whether the Dixon-Yates contract was a good one although he endorsed it.

Kefauver told Libby he was a "babe in the woods" on the power issue and until the issue of AEC in "the power business" is settled he would oppose Libby's confirmation.

Kefauver's opposition threw Libby's nomination into the "controversial" class. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas has said he would oppose consideration of "controversial" nominations at this special Senate session until after the McCarthy censure issue is finished. GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) has indicated he will press for action only on "non-controversial" nominations.

Von Neumann Faces Questioning
Libby is a Chicago university nuclear physicist. He said he endorsed the contract just before it was signed, but that he stated at the time that "I really feel a little bit incompetent still to take a firm position." He said he felt he was "a little bit uninformed about various issues."

Facing similar questioning by opponents of the Dixon-Yates contract was another nominee to the AEC — John Von Neumann, a physicist and mathematician who helped develop electronic computers used in atomic research. Von Neumann has not been sworn in as yet as a member of the AEC. He has expressed no opinion on the contract.

The contract calls for construction of a 107 million-dollar steam plant at West Memphis, Ark., to supply 600,000 kilowatts of power to the Tennessee Valley Authority. This would replace a like amount of power taken from TVA by AEC for its plant at Paducah, Ky.

Hostetter Named To Head Chicago Office by FBI
CHICAGO (AP)—Donald S. Hostetter, 47, in charge of the FBI office at Newark, N. J., has been named to head the FBI office in Chicago.

Hostetter, a former college football player and coach, will succeed Guy Banister, who has headed the Chicago office since last February.

A native of Warren, Ark., Hostetter has been an FBI agent since 1934. He has served as agent in charge of offices in Boston, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Memphis, Atlanta and Newark.

He played guard on the Washington & Lee University football team in the early 1930s and served the university as an assistant coach for two years.

Elbert Norris Home Damaged by Fire

The fire department made a run to the Elbert Norris residence, 510 South Main street, at 12:40 this afternoon.

There was considerable smoke damage to the kitchen walls and some damage in the attic, but the fire was kept under control and didn't spread from the rear of the house.

It is thought the fire started when an automatic clock radio burned, catching the kitchen curtains on fire.

This morning the Harper garage had a lot of smoke damage in the rear of the building when gasoline on the floor caught fire.

THE BUICK SPECIAL—A STANDOUT FOR 1955—SLEEK NEW STYLING and record-high horsepower make the Buick Special four-door sedan for 1955 a standout in the lower priced field. Its V-8 power plant has been increased to an all-time high of 186 horsepower which, with Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflo transmission, gives the Special performance and maneuverability unequalled by any automobile in its field. Setting a new styling trend are a wide-screen grille and a roll-edge bumper with sturdy dual wing guards. The new 1955 Buicks will be on display Friday at the Tom Endicott Buick Co., local dealer.

New Buicks Feature All-New Styling, More Horsepower; On Display Friday

The 1955 line of Buicks, featuring all-new styling and more powerful V-8 engines, plus a revolutionary new variable pitch Dynaflo transmission go on display Friday at the Tom Endicott Buick Co., local dealer.

Style-wise the new Buicks feature a new front end with a new wide-screen grille, new rear fenders that give the trunk compartment a longer, lower silhouette, new tail lights patterned after those on the experimental Wildcat II, and exquisite new interiors in many color combinations of nylon, leather and cordaveen.

Many bright new exterior colors have been developed for 1955 and will be offered in attractive two-tone and three-tone combinations. For the first time Buick is offering a two-tone combination under the sweepers moulding. On two and four-door sedans the customer will have a choice of one color underneath the sweepers, another above and a third color for the top.

Horsepower has been increased to 236 in the Roadmaster, Super and Century Series and 188 in the Special.

The panoramic windshield, pioneered by Buick last year, has been retained for 1955 along with the sloping doorbelt line and full rear wheel cutout on all two-door models.

New tubeless tires, which offer greater protection from blowouts, are standard on all models except those equipped with wire wheels.

Power brakes, offered as optional equipment on all models, have been re-designed for smoother operation. A new air suspension principle gives fully adequate braking under all conditions.

Improved power steering is standard equipment on the Roadmaster and Super, and optional on all other models. Previously power steering was standard on the Roadmaster only.

The new Dynaflo offers the driver greater economy plus additional performance when he desires it. This is accomplished by the two different settings of the Dynaflo stator vanes. One angle is for maximum economy while cruising. The other is for performance.

For all normal driving variable pitch Dynaflo operates on the same principle as last year's transmission. When additional performance is desired, the driver merely presses the accelerator all the way to the floor. This changes the angle of the blades in the Dynaflo stator, permitting the engine to operate in its peak performance range.

Keeps Foot on Auto Brake for Two Hours

ELMIRA, N. Y. — Walter E. Callahan kept his foot on the brake for two terrible hours and saved his life.

Callahan's car went off the road near here and plunged down a steep embankment. He stopped it with his foot brake—just 20 feet short of some railroad tracks.

Callahan hung on for two hours while three trains rolled by, the sheriff's office said. Finally a passing motorist saw him and got a wrecker.

Public Invited To Ingersoll Marker Dedication

The committee in charge of the dedication ceremonies for the Ingersoll marker at Raleigh Saturday at 2 p. m. has announced again that the public is cordially invited to the dedication. It will be held in the Raleigh school and a full program will be printed in Friday afternoon's paper.

There are many distinguished guests who are to be present at the dedication. Among them are, Dr. Arthur F. Bester, Urbana, president of the Illinois Historical society; Dr. Harry E. Pratt, Springfield, Illinois State Historian; Wason W. Lawrence, Fairfield, director, and John W. Allen, Carbondale, past director, Illinois State Historical society; Dr. William P. Pitkin, Carbondale, of the History department of Southern Illinois university, as well as Earle Benjamin Searcy, the principal speaker.

The marker was obtained from the State society through the efforts of J. Ward Barnes, Eldorado, the president, and Seerial Thompson, Harrisburg, chairman of the Marker's committee. This is the first historical marker to be placed in Saline county although there has been a great deal of interest in historical matters in the past several years. It is hoped that a large number of people will attend the dedication.

In addition to the relatives of William H. Parish and William M. Christy mentioned in news items this week it is learned that Christy left other grand nieces and grand nephews. Mrs. Everett (Madge) Hess, Mrs. Pearl Thompson, Stanley Wilson, Walter Wilson, Mrs. Clarence (Alice) Bosket, and Mrs. J. M. (Ethel) Burley are all grand nieces and grand nephews of Christy. To each of these has been extended a special invitation to attend the dedication ceremonies Saturday. It is known that there are other descendants and relatives of contemporaneous lawyers who do not live in Saline county, and the committee has requested that if there are any others who do live in the county who have not been specially invited, that they contact J. Ward Barnes at Eldorado.

Buick Boosts Prices Slightly

FLINT, Mich. — Buick raised the prices on all its 1955 models slightly above 1954 prices on all except two station wagon models today.

The prices on the Century estate wagon and the Special estate wagon were cut $273 and $174 respectively.

Prices on all other models were boosted slightly because of recent freight adjustments which cut freight charges for West Coast dealers and other dealers 1,200 miles or more from Detroit.

Except for the two station wagon models, prices were hiked $26 on cars in the Special series, $27 on cars in the Century series and $30 on cars in the Super and Roadmaster series.

Buyers who take cars with power steering will save most of the price boost however since power steering was cut from $125 to $100 on the new cars.

On the Super series power steering will be standard equipment this year, which in effect will mean a total price reduction for Supers with power steering in 1954.

Don't be afraid, little boy

Don't be afraid of the world, little boy. For the world is a great and wonderful place filled with kind and sympathetic people.

Maybe there have been some who laughed and jeered at you. But only because they didn't understand. They didn't understand that you are afflicted with one of the most heartbreaking of all human handicaps—MENTAL RETARDATION.

Be patient, little boy. There's a great new dawn coming for you and the almost 5 million other mentally retarded "children" in the United States.

Your neighbors are helping. They're joining with your parents to form local chapters of the National Association for Retarded Children. New chapters are springing up almost daily. These people will care for you, teach you, love you. These people will tell other people about you. The others will tell others.

Your community, your state, your federal government... educators, doctors, editors—all of them are going to help you, too. Already, in many communities, educators have started classes suited to your learning ability. Editors are writing about you, lifting the curtain of mystery that has kept you from the public eye. Doctors are studying you, testing you, trying to find out why, why you are one of the 3 children out of every hundred born to be marked for a lifetime that will never reach complete fulfillment.

So be patient, little boy. And I'll be patient, too. Even though you're mine... little boy.

- ▶ An estimated 300 mentally retarded children will be born in the U.S. today and every day.
- ▶ There are about 4,800,000 mentally retarded "children" in the United States.
- ▶ Mental retardation strikes rich and poor, regardless of social and educational background. No one is immune.
- ▶ Mental retardation is 9 times more prevalent than cerebral palsy; 10 times more than unrecovered polio.

Liberty Home Bureau Unit Meets With Mrs. Willie Hendren

The major topic was "Cause and Prevention of Tuberculosis," given by Mrs. Virgil Wright. The minor topic, "Uncooked Candies," was given by Mrs. Arthur Kiehn.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Virgil Wright.

Mrs. Frank Baker Attends Girl Scout Regional Meeting
Mrs. Frank Baker represented the Saline County Girl Scout Council at the Great Lakes regional meeting held in Springfield Nov. 8, 9 and 10.

More than 1,000 Illinois Girl Scout adults attended the regional conference on their movement's role as "a growing force for freedom."

Speaking at the closing session, Dorothy Stratton, national executive director, analyzed the Girl Scout promise in which every girl and adult in the organization vows to "do my duty to God and my country." She pointed out that there is no scouting behind the iron curtain.

"That which Girl Scouts and Girl Guides hold in common is that God comes first," she said. "I think this may very well be one of the reasons that Scouting has been driven out of, or has had to go underground in every totalitarian country in the world. God does not come first with people or with countries which have embraced the materialistic philosophy."

Miss Stratton said the most important job of the Girl Scout leader is to serve as an understanding friend to the girls in her troop. "An adult is placed through her leadership in a natural position to make friends with her girls," she said. "She is outside the immediate family circle and many times by that very fact is worth listening to—and more important worth talking to."

The conference's keynote speaker, Dr. Mildred Freburg Berry, professor of speech and literature at Rockford college, Rockford, called upon the Girl Scouts to reaffirm the faith and strength which they have already demonstrated "in nameless unremembered ways" in thousands of communities across the nation.

Mrs. John Carney, director of the Girl Scouts' national community relations division, recalled that the first Girl Scout handbook was called "How Girls Can Help Their Country." "This concept of a practical love of country has motivated the Scout movement from the beginning and is equally vital today," she said.

The conference also included group sessions on the nature program, camping, citizenship, arts and crafts and the special needs of girls at various age levels.

The Great Lakes Region is made up of the following states with their total memberships: Wisconsin 58,084, Indiana 64,173, Illinois 142,010, and Michigan 92,496.

November Meeting Held by Xi Beta Omega
Mrs. James F. Moore was hostess at her beautiful home at 1215 South Jackson street Monday evening to the members of the Xi Beta Omega chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority when they convened for their regular November meeting.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Maryalce Morris, with the various reports and communications given by the officers and the chairmen of committees.

At the close of the business session, the evening's program was given by Wilma Mae Rubel who spoke on a combined subject, "Eighteenth Century Furniture—Its European Influence" and "Early American Furniture."

Mrs. Rubel, in her talk, traced through English history the origin and style periods of furniture, and how humanity, and conditions besetting it, developed beauty from simple need. Pictures were exhibited to illustrate the different periods, which included the Queen Anne and Early Georgian, Adam and Hepplewhite style, Chippendale, and the Sheraton and Empire period.

In the latter part of her talk, she gave a brief history of Early American furniture: the adaptations of design from other countries, and the designs of the first Americans themselves. She concluded the program with an appropriate poem entitled "Our Furniture."

The hostess and her assistant, Norma Johnson, closed the evening's agenda with serving delicious refreshments to the following members: Pat Davenport, Roselee Dorris, Martha Dixon, Betty Sue Hendrix, Jean Gaskins, Eleanor Molinarolo, Maryalce Morris, Sadie Lou Stricklin, Wilma Rubel, Loberna Taylor, Naida Upchurch, and Marion Utter.

There were ten girls present and the following officers were elected: President, Linda Woodruff; secretary, Rita Davenport; vice president, Sally Davenport; federation, Joan Murrie and Joie Lou Cook; recreation chairman, Mary Jane Dameron, and reporter, Rita Stump.

The next meeting will be held Friday, Nov. 19, at 4 p. m. at the home of Shirley Shoemaker.

Trapped Burglar Escapes Through Plate Glass Window

MONTEZUMA, Ind. (AP)—A burglar jumped through the plate glass window of a bank today when a crowd of spectators, attracted by the noise of his entry, trapped him inside.

He escaped in the darkness while townspeople and two officers waited behind the Montezuma branch of the Parke State Bank of Rockville.

A suspect was arrested a mile from the scene, bleeding from many cuts on his body. He was taken to jail at Rockville, and Indiana State Police said he admitted being in the bank.

Capt. John J. Barton, head of the investigation division of State Police, said at Indianapolis the suspect may have planned to hide until daylight and hold up the bank rather than burglarize it.

Barton identified the suspect as Robert Lee Short, 22, Hillsdale, Ind. Short was arrested in his home and questioned regarding unexplained lacerations on his face and hands.

Dies in Cave-in of Pipeline Tunnel

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Hugh O. Money-maker, 51, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., died Wednesday in a cave-in of a pipeline tunnel near here. Money-maker was buried to above the waist in mud and dirt in the 16-foot ditch, and was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Illinois Asks Right to Ban Overweight Trucks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Illinois asked the Supreme Court today to allow it to exclude from its borders interstate truckers who repeatedly commit overweight violations.

John L. Davidson Jr., assistant attorney general of Illinois, told the court in oral arguments that fines have not prevented truckers from overloading. Prohibiting repeated violators from operating in Illinois is a "reasonable" regulation, he said.

David Axelrod, attorney for Hayes Freight Lines, Mattoon, Ill., charged that the regulation would "play havoc" with the trucking industry. He said it is a "shocking, disproportionate penalty" that would bankrupt suspended truckers.

The Illinois Supreme Court ruled it can be applied only to traffic within the state — not between states. The U. S. Supreme Court will hand down an opinion later this term.

Hayes Freight Lines brought the case after Illinois took court action to suspend its operators license for 157 alleged violations.

Indiana, which has a similar suspension provision, and the American Automobile Assn. urged in separate briefs that the Supreme Court rule the law constitutional.

Woodstock Couple Is Named 'Dairy Family of Year' by IAA

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois Agricultural Assn. honored Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schuett and their son, Walter Jr., Woodstock, Wednesday night as the "Dairy Family of the Year."

The American Farm Bureau Federation named the Schuett family to the award and the association gave the family recognition at its convention meeting. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, who attended, congratulated them.

The Schuett family own and operate a 206 acre dairy farm. Schuett has been an active member of the McHenry County Dairy Promotion Council.

Refuses Blood Transfusion After Leg Severed, Dies

MATTOON, Ill. (AP)—A 64-year-old man who refused to accept a blood transfusion died Wednesday four hours after his leg was severed when he was struck by a railroad switch engine.

Doctors said William G. Waggoner, Mattoon, would not allow them to give him a blood transfusion at Mattoon District Hospital, apparently on religious grounds.

They sought an order from Cook County Judge William J. Sunderman to permit them to give Waggoner a transfusion anyway, but Sunderman said he lacked such authority.

Cpl. Thomas E. Pinkston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pinkston, Harrisburg, is serving with the Seventh Infantry division in Korea. Cpl. Pinkston, a squad leader in the 15th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Battalion's Battery A, entered the Army in May 1952. He has been overseas since August 1953.

Airman 1-c James R. Wiggins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Wiggins, Eldorado, was recently graduated from the Seventh Army Non-Commissioned Officer Academy in Munich, Germany. A security specialist with the 2nd radio mobile squadron, Airman Wiggins successfully completed a five-week course in leadership, map reading and other military subjects. He entered the Air Force in March 1952 and received training at Lackland Air Force Base and Brooks Air Force Base, both in Texas, before arrival overseas in July 1953.

Two Girls Attacked By Teen-Aged 'Wolf Pack' Gang

CHICAGO (AP)—Two grade school girls walking to a drug store for sodas were attacked and brutally beaten Wednesday night by a "wolf pack" gang of six teenage girls.

Police said the teenage gang kicked and pummeled the two girls, ripped their clothing, and threatened "to burn their eyes out" with cigarettes.

The victims, Judy Gramm, 13, and Belya Stadt, 15, were treated for multiple bruises and abrasions, and Judy suffered a possible fractured pelvis.

Police said the girl "wolf pack" kicked Judy while she lay on the sidewalk.

The girls' description of their attackers matched that of members of a vicious "Blue Jeans" gang of young female hoodlums, police said. The tough-talking, cigarette-smoking "Blue Jeans" have been blamed for auto thefts, burglaries and assaults on the city's South Side.

Mrs. Ethel Steppo, mother of Judy, told policeman Robert Murphy the two girls had been at her home watching television and she gave each of them a quarter to get a soda at a nearby drug store.

Judy and Belya said they were walking to the drug store when the gang attacked them from the rear, for no apparent reason.

They identified the leader of the gang as a 17-year-old girl, who police said was a member of the "Blue Jeans" gang.

Farmer Brings Turkeys to B. W. Rude Open House, Wins One But Turns It Down

When George Williams, Carrier Mills RFD 2 farmer brought six turkeys to the B. W. Rude Motor Co. yesterday as door prizes at the open house which featured showing of the new 1955 Dodge and Plymouth automobiles, Mr. Williams registered, but stated he did not want a turkey if he won one. He was, however, available if he won the Mixmaster.

Winners of the door prizes were: Mixmaster: Louise Awalt, 16 1/2 East Locust, Harrisburg.

Turkeys: Hazel Williams, Carrier Mills RFD, Vernon Edwards, Harrisburg RFD 1, Otis Youngs, 10 South Vine, Ruth Allen, 905 North Main, Mrs. James Land, 114 West Park, and Jeanee Jones, 106 East College, all of Harrisburg.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd had flu this week and couldn't take his 12-year-old son Johnny hunting on the first day of the season.

Mrs. Shepperd filled in for Johnny's ailing father. Johnny came back with two wild turkey gobblers and a four-point buck deer.

St. Joseph's Calendars Praised By Civil Defense

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Federal Civil Defense Administration has given special recognition to the widely distributed St. Joseph Calendar "as an excellent means of putting Civil Defense information in many American homes."

In a message to FCDA agencies and individuals all over the nation engaged in Civil Defense work, the FCDA points out the public service being done by the 1955 St. Joseph Calendars, and urges cooperation in their distribution so that citizens can be better prepared for the emergency of bomb attack.

The long established St. Joseph Calendars, filled with such information as weather forecasts, planting and fishing charts, times of sunrises and sunsets, moon phases, signs of the Zodiac and horoscopes and other timely data, first ran a Civil Defense chart for 1954. So popular was the air raid chart that drug dealers from coast to coast and also Plough, Inc., drug manufacturers in Memphis, Tenn., who print and distribute the calendars, were swamped with requests for free copies of the combined calendar, almanac and weather chart.

Civil Defense, aware of the public's growing interest in bomb attack information is giving wholehearted support to helping drug dealers distribute the St. Joseph Calendars.

In addition to putting its stamp of approval on the way St. Joseph Calendars alert citizens to precautions in hydrogen and A-bomb raids, the FCDA's message for 1955 points out how Civil Defense directors can do a vital public service in cooperating and working with drug dealers in distributing these calendars.

If you want this most complete and popular calendar for your home, simply ask your drug dealer for a free 1955 St. Joseph Calendar, Almanac, Weather chart, or write to Plough, Inc., Memphis, Tenn.

Benson Sees
A-Energy Use
For Agriculture

CHICAGO — Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson says atomic power may touch off agriculture's "most revolutionary development of all time."

Benson described a strange new farm world of speeded-up crops and radically altered marketing cycles in a speech Wednesday night before the Illinois Agriculture Association.

Among the possible fruits of the peacetime use of atomic energy, Benson listed:

"Mutations and other livestock breeding advances which will completely change our present marketing cycles."

"Steers finished in much less time than now required."

The increase and speedup of crop yield through nuclear energy so that several crops can be harvested each season.

Frozen milk concentrates which could be sold in the same way as frozen fruit juices.

"Rainmaking may become a normal part of crop production," Benson said. "Deserts may bloom."

"We already have come far enough to realize that the atom will teach us more about the effective use of fertilizers than we know today."

Eldorado Group Takes Part in Panel Discussion

T. Leo Dodd, chairman of the Eldorado Community Development association, Louis Aaron, Alfred Adams, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Draper, Mrs. Clarent Hopkins and Mrs. Mark Watson, were members of a panel composed of seven people discussing Eldorado's "Operations Bootstrap" at a meeting of the Adult Education association in Chicago, last week.

The meeting, held at the Morrison hotel, was attended by 100 people who were particularly interested in two projects of community development that are outstanding in the United States: One in Eldorado and the other in the state of Washington.

Richard Poston, Southern Illinois university professor, who has been adviser to the Eldorado community, was in charge of the program. The man in charge of the Washington state project flew to Chicago to take part in the discussion, which took place after the showing of a kinescope of the Murrow-CBS story "See it Now."

Mr. Dodd served as moderator. Mr. Adams, coach at Eldorado high school, discussed the part of "Education." Louis Aaron, "History," H. D. Draper, "Industry," Mrs. Clarent Hopkins, "Town Meetings and Census," Mrs. Mark Watson, cooperation of citizens, Mrs. Draper, "Beautification," which has included the planting of daffodils to lead to making Eldorado known as "The City of Golden Daffodils" and the beautification of Poston park.

Superiors Praise Officer Charged With Brutality

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Superior officers and training non-coms who worked with a second lieutenant charged with brutality today defended his stern disciplinary measures before a general court martial board and described the accused as a "fine outstanding officer."

Lt. Charles C. Anderson, St. Louis, who is on trial on 17 counts of humiliating and harassing trainees at Camp Gordon, Ga., heard two colonels, a major, four sergeants and a private testify that his training methods got his company "on the ball."

Maj. Ernest D. Snyder, training battalion executive officer, said that before Anderson arrived, a company was filthy. However, he said, following Anderson's arrival, an inspection revealed that a company "was on the ball, filled with esprit de corps, and the best in the battalion."

Oldsmobile Raises Prices Slightly

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Oldsmobile raised prices on its 1955 models by amounts ranging up to $27 to cover costs involved in trimming freight prices for dealers more than 1200 miles from Detroit.

Prices ranged from $2,090 on the two-door sedan in the "88" series to $2,989 for the Starfire convertible in the "98" series.

Power steering was reduced in the new models. It was trimmed from $125 to $100. Other accessory prices remained substantially unchanged.

Mrs. James Roosevelt Reports Prowler, Fears Plot to Kidnap Children

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Roosevelt, 37, estranged wife of James Roosevelt, feared a possible kidnap plot against her three children today because of a mysterious prowler near her home.

Mrs. Roosevelt notified police of the intruder Wednesday, saying she feared for the safety of the children belonging to her and the son of the late President—James Jr., 8; Michael, 7; and Anna Eleanor, 6.

Income Tax Forms to Bear Tell-Tale Stripe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite one congressman's complaint, the package you get in the mail containing your income tax form is still going to bear a tell-tale colored stripe.

The Internal Revenue Service made this clear today. A spokesman denied the stripes will violate "any privacy of the taxpayer" and said the packages—143 freight cartons of them—will be mailed out as scheduled right after Christmas.

The stripe will reveal at a glance whether you reported more or less than $10,000 income last spring. Rep. Thomas J. Lane (D-Mass.), complained about this Tuesday to Tax Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews, calling it a case of "tax and tell."

He said use of the stripe is "an invasion of one's financial privacy" and will "enable too many inquisitive people to find out what other fellows are earning."

Officially, the Internal Revenue Service had "no comment" on Lane's complaint. But a spokesman said other markings in the past have accomplished the same purpose without raising a fuss and that the stripes will remain.

The stripes were devised to lower the cost and time required for packaging the forms and instructions mailed out to taxpayers. Material marked with yellow stripes goes to those who reported income of $10,000 or more. That, with reddish stripes, to those reporting between $5,000 and $10,000.

Child of Pacific Vet, Grandmother Killed by Auto

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 17-month-old son of a Pacific veteran and the child's grandmother were killed Wednesday night when they were struck by an automobile here.

The victims were Michael Howard Storie, who was dead on arrival at City hospital, and Mrs. Ruby Morefield, 37, who died a few hours later.

Mrs. Morefield was carrying the baby in her arms across the street after her husband, Weston, let them out of the car. She was struck by an automobile driven by

500-Pound Cake to Be Presented to East St. Louis Coach Wirt Downing

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — They're putting the finishing touches on Wirt Downing's 500-pound cake today.

The king-sized confection will be presented to Downing, football coach of the powerhouse East St. Louis High School Flyers, Friday night at ceremonies preceding the game at Parsons Field with Centralia.

Downing has become something of an institution in this southern Illinois city where he has enjoyed sensational success as a coach. Friday has been officially designated as "Wirt Downing Day," and the cake is only one of the gifts slated for the coach, currently on a 30-game winning streak.

But the story of the monster cake (1,000 eggs, 120 pounds of sugar, 60 pounds of shortening, butter and oleo) began 10 years ago, when Charlie (Casey) Kruta was killed in action in Germany.

Two of Casey's three brothers had, like him, played on Downing-coached teams and there was always plenty of football talk in their bakery.

U. of Delaware Selected for Refrigerator Bowl

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — The University of Delaware's Blue Hens will meet an opponent chosen from among the University of Toledo, Kent State and Southeastern Louisiana Teachers in the 1954 Refrigerator Bowl here Dec. 5.

The Blue Hens were chosen on Wednesday to play in the bowl and are considered one of the best caliber teams ever selected in the history of the event. Delaware, with a 6-2 record and one regular season game remaining, is a member of the 24-team Eastern Collegiate League Conference, which includes Army and Navy. The Hens rank first in the loop defensively and third in offense.

David Hughes, 17-year-old Webster Groves high school student, Hughes was booked on suspicion of manslaughter and careless driving.

The child's father, Pfc. Howard Storie, 23, is en route from Okinawa to be discharged. He has been overseas two years and never saw his son.

The news of the boy's death stunned his mother, Mrs. Stella Kruta. Almost overcome with grief, she finally turned to the man she's always heard her boys talking about.

She didn't even know Downing's name but when she asked for "Mr. Coach" at the high school they knew whom she meant.

Downing came out to see her at once and for two hours he talked to her of Casey's exploits on the football field, recalling all his successes for a woman who had never seen a game.

When she left the keen edge had been taken off her grief and she could face the prospect of life without her beloved son calmly.

Frank Jr. is responsible for decoration of the cake, a job he figures will take nearly all day.

The finished produce will be at least four feet high and it will have three layers. The bottom one is six feet long and two feet wide.

A truck will haul it to Parsons Field where a special stand has been prepared.

One problem troubling Frank and others of "The Grounded Flyers," former Downing players, is how to make the cake go around.

He estimates that it will serve 3,000.

But about 10,000 were expected to turn out for the game between the undefeated teams.

Carter Wins Lightweight Crown for Third Time, Stops DeMarco in the 15th

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jimmy Carter, master of the softly spoken word and brain-adding left hook, won the lightweight crown for the third time in his erratic career today—a feat never before accomplished among the little men of the game.

Plodding, patient Jimmy snatched it back from Brooklyn's Paddy DeMarco Wednesday night by stopping the gritty brawler in the 15th round of their nationally televised title fight at the Cow Palace.

Carter weighed 135 and DeMarco 134½ in their fight before a crowd of 12,896. The gross gate was $48,676.

After the dinner, the special guests will be introduced. The guest speaker for the banquet will be Coach Bill O'Brien from Southern Illinois University. Following O'Brien's speech, letter awards will then be presented to the varsity, freshman, sophomore, and freshman football players, cheerleaders, and managers of the teams. Gold football awards will also be presented at this time to the varsity players being won in the Shrine's game with Mt. Vernon with a score of 6-0. Following the presentation of awards, a film of one of Southern Illinois university's games will be shown.

The banquet was prepared and will be served by the Homemaking III classes under the direction of Mrs. Louise Cothran.

Yankees Get Turley, Don Larsen, Billy Hunter in Trade with Orioles

Give Up Woodling, Byrd, McDonald in Million-Dollar Deal

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees made their first major trade to regain their lost world championship today by acquiring pitchers Bob Turley and Don Larsen and shortstop Billy Hunter from the Baltimore Orioles in the biggest deal in baseball history.

The Yankees gave up outfielder Gene Woodling, pitchers Harry Byrd and Jim McDonald, infielder Willie Miranda and rookie catcher Gus Triunfo and Hal Smith in the million-dollar deal.

In addition, the Yankees will deliver three more players, presumably from their farm system, to be named later.

General Manager George Weiss of the Yankees, who closed the deal, said it would wind up as the largest in the history of the game. The value of the players involved was considered upwards of one million dollars.

Traded Turley Reluctantly

Baltimore, which finished seventh in the American league last season, parted most reluctantly with Turley, 24-year-old righthander who led the American league with 185 strikeouts in 1954. Sought by every club in the league, Turley won 14 games and lost 15 last season while compiling a 3.46 earned run average. At one time, the Orioles hung a $200,000 price tag on him.

Larsen, a 25-year-old righthander also was widely coveted despite a woeful record of only three victories against 21 defeats. Like Turley, he is a fast ball pitcher with limited major league experience.

The key man in the long drawn-out trade talks between general Manager George Weiss of the Yankees and Paul Richards, who serves as both general manager and field manager for the Orioles, was the peppery 26-year-old Hunter who cost the St. Louis Browns $30,000 plus three players when they bought him from the Brooklyn Dodgers Oct. 14, 1952.

To Replace Rizzuto

A fast-moving slick fielder who batted only 243 last season, Hunter will be groomed to replace 36-year-old Phil Rizzuto, who has played shortstop for the Yankees since 1941.

From the Orioles point of view, the player they sought most was Woodling, 32-year-old left fielder who was sidelined part of 1954 with an injured wrist and hit only 250 after batting .309 in 1952 and .306 in 1953.

It was reported that the Yankees and Orioles would make a subsequent deal in two or three weeks but there was no official confirmation.

Detroit Nominated As Site for 1960 Olympics in U. S.

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroit was safely over the first hurdle today in the race among world cities to play host to the 1960 Olympic games.

The Motor City was nominated as this nation's choice for the summer games Wednesday by a selection jury of the United States Olympic committee after it heard summer game bids from representatives of four other American cities.

Final approval of Detroit as the scene of the 1960 Olympiad now is in the hands of the United States Olympic Association whose membership will be polled in a mail vote.

If Detroit receives such approval its representatives will automatically be invited to Paris to attend the June 14-17 meeting of the International Site Award committee.

The selection jury recommended Detroit for 1960 after listening to other bids from Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Minneapolis.

Looking AT Sports

By ED KIRKPATRICK

We sat in on our first game of the infant 1954-55 season Tuesday night, and it can be said with out qualification... King Basketball is back. Shawneetown's goal was jammed, Ridgway's back-ers wore beanies in school colors, yell leaders for both school worked vigorously, scouts were present, and Shawneetown's band, sporting new uniforms, supplied music before the game and at the half.

What's more, a typical Shawneetown basketball game developed. Ridgway basketball game developed. And although the Indians finished on top by several points, Ridgway was very much in the game most of the way. Garrison Newsom demonstrated that he hadn't lost the touch, amazing fans with his jumping, fade-away shots from the corner and out front.

Bobby Spottsville, who sustained a badly bruised right knee in the game against Vienna last week, is still on crutches. He will be out the remainder of this week and then may be able to return to the squad on a limited basis until the member is completely healed.

Spottsville, who does a large share of Shawneetown's rebounding and scoring, had commenced the year in mid-season form.

Coach Barney Genisio is fortunate this year in having several fine reserves, otherwise Spottsville's absence would have been much more noticeable Tuesday. This combination of height, experience and reserve strength, plus the ability of every team member to score, is expected to make the Indians a dangerous foe throughout the season.

Already this is showing up in the fact that Shawneetown has won its first three games by an average 22-point margin.

Of course, many roundball fans are saying that Shawneetown's real early-season test will come this Friday evening when the Indians invade Galatia. And there's undoubtedly something to be said of this. You can bet seats will be at a premium.

Down Equality way, "Kayo" Willis' Cardinals are having a time getting under way. This is Equality's first game season as a member of the Greater Egyptian conference. Although they have lost five straight, three have been by less than 10 points. As is the case with Al Penman's Ridgway team, improvement should be noticeable as the season progresses.

Incidentally, Equality lost to Crab Orchard by a mere four points. Three nights later those same Trojans entertained Waltonville at their Homecoming in Crab Orchard land and soundly throttled them, 106-48. With eight lettermen back, Crab Orchard is expected to floor a fine team all season long. They will meet Equality again in the Equality Invitational tournament early in December.

HUNTING DEPT.—Jack Wendling, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wendling, Harrisburg, was pictured with his two fine dogs, Val and Max, in an article published recently in The Dayton Daily News, Dayton, Ohio. Of Jack, the story said:

"Jack Wendling's enthusiasm as a sportsman is culminated in his dogs. He is president of the Buckeye German Shorthaired Pointers club. A bagged pheasant is the end product of the sport he enjoys. The means to that end—his dogs working a field, holding on a steady point—is the thrill to him."

Wendling, an Air Force officer in WW II, is a civilian employee in Aeronautical Intelligence at the Wright - Patterson Field, Dayton. He is married to the former Kathleen Crebo, and they have two children, Mark and Sue.

THE 1955 BUICK

New thriller in Style - Power - Performance

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

A BRIGHT NEW FRESHNESS greets your eyes and tells you: Buick's done it again.

You see it in the bold distinction of that gleaming Wide-Screen Grille. You see it in the rakish sweep of the rear-end contours. You see it in the whole fore-and-aft newness of fleet-lined grace that marks Buick the beauty thrill of 1955.

New horsepower — up to 236

You learn more when you get the power story. Up to new peaks go the horsepower of every Buick V8 engine—a wallowing 188 hp in the low-price SPECIAL—a mighty 236 hp in the CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER.

And it's new, more responsive, far abler power you can literally feel as you go.

But even bigger Buick news for 1955 is something more than style and power. It's what the "variable pitch propeller" now has done for Dynaflo Drive.*

Up goes performance — and gas mileage too

When you find it necessary to push the pedal to the floor board, you do more than call on the greatest high-compression V8 power in Buick history.

You do what a pilot does when he heads his plane down a runway.

You do in oil what he does in air—you cut down take-off time by using "variable pitch propellers."

In this case, the propeller blades are inside the Dynaflo unit. But they're engineered to swivel or change their "pitch" just like plane propellers—and with the same result: one pitch for getaway, another pitch for gas-saving fuel efficiency.

And what you get in the way of instantaneous safety-surge with absolute smoothness, you can only believe when you feel it.

This you have to try

Of course, we want you to come and see the trend-setting new Buicks—look into the betterments in gasoline mileage that add new thrills to these spectacular cars.

But this year, "seeing" is only the beginning. So—while you join the crowds viewing the new Buicks this week end, make a date to get behind the wheel as soon as you possibly can. We promise you the thrill of the year.

Believe Russia Ordered Fields Freed by Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials said today Russia may have ordered Noel Herta and Hermann Field freed by satellite governments as part of the Soviet "co-existence" campaign.

They said, however, that the entire Field case is "so mysterious" that nobody this side of the Iron Curtain can be sure why the Fields were grabbed in the first place by the Communists, held for five years, then suddenly turned loose. Officials anxiously await the return of the Field family to the West to determine the real story of their vanishing act.

Noel, a former State Department official, and his wife Herta disappeared behind the Iron Curtain in August, 1949. They were freed in Budapest, Hungary, Wednesday. Noel's brother, Hermann, disappeared also in 1949 while searching for Noel. He was freed in Poland earlier this year after five years' imprisonment.

One Still Missing

Mrs. Erica Glaser Wallace, foster daughter of Noel, disappeared in East Berlin in 1950. She was last reported in a Soviet Siberian prison camp near the Arctic Circle. Russia has never replied to a U. S. note asking for information on her whereabouts.

Baffled American officials advanced these possible reasons for the sudden release of the Fields: 1. Russia may have ordered them released as part of the Soviet campaign for "peaceful co-existence."

The Fields are among the last well-known Americans trapped behind the Iron Curtain and their release should tend to make the Communist appear more conciliatory than in the past.

Retired Top-Foreman Has Little Spare Time Because Hobbies Keep Him Busy

By Alta Porter

Charles E. Boyett, Harco, retired top-foreman for the Peabody Coal company, has made a hobby of collecting advertising pencils, of which he has 220, representing business and industries from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

The shortest one is of the "bullet type" about three inches long and the longest is 16 inches, and is a pencil on which is printed the Lord's Prayer. It lay in the desk of the Chief Clerk at Dering mine until that mine was abandoned.

He has a measuring pencil, with the dimensions in inches and eighths along the side, a pencil shaped like a cigarette, a pencil with a knife in one end, a pencil in the shape of a Coca-Cola bottle. Many other odd decorations adorn the pencils in his collection which occupies two glass enclosed cases, about 18 inches across.

Mr. Boyett retired on a pension in 1952 after 25 years with the Peabody Coal company, but he has had little "spare time" for he has other hobbies that keep him busy. He is a skillful artist at lettering and decorating posters, and during the months he is in Harrisburg, makes posters for nearly all of the departments of the First Baptist church, where he and Mrs. Boyett are members and she sings in the choir and served as president of the Amoma class during the past year.

He is the president of the S. H. Frazier Training Union. They spent the winter in Florida, living in a trailer at Fort Pierce, and attending the Baptist church there.

En route to Florida this year, they visited their son, Clyde "Toots" Boyett, and family at Corbin, Ky., and before leaving they went to Farmersville to visit another son, Robert, who is top foreman for the Freeman Coal company there. Their eldest daughter, Mrs. Claudia Ryan, is employed at the state hospital at Manteno, and their youngest daughter, Mrs. C. C. Porter Jr., lives at Marion.

"Toots," who inherited his father's artistic skill, is a cartoonist and is employed by Allen Garcia as a mine construction foreman.

Submit Dixon-Yates Contract to SEC

WASHINGTON (AP)—The controversial Dixon-Yates power contract was submitted to the Securities & Exchange Commission today for approval of proposed financing of the Dixon-Yates utilities combine.

The SEC is expected to set a hearing date later this week. The hearing, before an SEC examiner, probably will be scheduled for two to four weeks from now.

Tiny Brunette Named March of Dimes Poster Girl

NEW YORK (AP)—A tiny, blue-eyed brunette who learned to walk in a steel frame and has never taken a step without braces was chosen today as the poster girl for the 1955 March of Dimes.

Five-year-old Mary Kosloski, of Colliersville, Tenn., was stricken with poliomyelitis at the age of five months. Her sweet, unsmiling face looks up on the March of Dimes poster from a crisp yellow dress and trappings of shiny steel.

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, announced that March of Dimes funds in the amount of $2,046 have been spent in treatment of the girl. Additional costs have been borne by her parents, Dorothy and Peter Paul Kosloski.

Both arms and legs and neck and trunk muscles were involved when Mary emerged from the acute phase of the illness, and it was thought she would never walk again. But treatment, both at home and in hospitals, has so improved her condition that doctors are now hopeful she may eventually discard one of her leg braces.

She has undergone one operation, to correct a hip condition which was causing a curvature of the spine, and may need more surgery in the future.

"American Anniversary"
Hawaii was celebrating July 4th as early as 1875, more than 20 years before its annexation to the United States. The date was known as "American Anniversary."

Egyptian Ass'n for Mentally Retarded Children Meets

The Egyptian Association for Retarded Children met Tuesday evening, Nov. 16, in the dining room of the 45 Drive-In in Harrisburg after attending the address of Ray Graham, of the Illinois state department of education, to the Kiwanis club at the Masonic temple.

Present at the meeting were representatives from Carbondale, Steeleville, Herrin, Murphysboro, Carrier Mills and Harrisburg.

Mr. Graham, assisted by Miss Dorothy Seigle, director of mentally retarded children's program of the state department of education, was present, telling of the progress being made in Illinois toward the education of educable and trainable mentally handicapped children. He presented W. A. Howe, president of the group, from Carbondale, with a copy of a report recently sent to Governor Stratton on the progress during the past year of pilot studies conducted in 12 different counties throughout the state of Illinois on a trial basis.

Mrs. Howe discussed plans for the women of the organizations to appear on the "Coffee Club" Saturday, Nov. 20, on television station WSLI.

It was announced that the next meeting would be held on Dec. 2 in the auditorium of the Southern Illinois university at Carbondale at 7:30 p. m. At this time the constitution and by-laws will be presented to the group and membership fees will be payable by members and associate members.

All parents and persons interested in the welfare of mentally retarded children are invited to be present at this meeting.

The nation's largest post office serves only two of New York's five boroughs—Manhattan and the Bronx. Yet it earns a tenth of United States postal revenue and every day dispatches an average 17,000,000 pieces of mail.

The Future of American Colleges

Editorial
BY LEONARD RUPPERT

The average American college already is overcrowded. It is having increasing trouble getting and holding competent teachers. It is faced with major financial problems caused by ballooning operating costs.

Yet, compared with what is to come, it is currently sitting pretty.

According to recent figures, college enrollment today (2,500,000)
is the largest in peacetime history.
And the "baby boom" of the Forties has not begun to be felt yet.

When it does, we are in for trouble. Within another 10 years, it is said, enrollment will jump to over 4,000,000, or 50 per cent more students than are squeezing on campus today. Finding a place to put them, and finding professors to teach them, will be serious national problems.

This, of course, is hardly surprising. The dilemma of snow-balling school enrollment is one that is now familiar to almost every community. It is currently most acute in our public elementary schools, and soon will be felt in our high schools as the wave of new pupils advances.

But the problem, as viewed from the college level, includes an important factor which may make it extra severe.

Most elementary and high schools are supported by public funds. The need for new expansion can thus be financed in full,
however painful the job may be,
through federal, state and local taxation. And as pressure from parents steadily mounts, at almost certainly will be.

But a college or university may have to fend for itself. Institutions of higher learning currently number 1900, and roughly two thirds are private. In order to meet their expansion needs, those without state support will have to rely,
for the most part, on gifts from alumni and corporations.

The only other alternatives — raising their rates of tuition or cutting down their activities — are loaded with serious dangers. Tuition rates, for instance, are higher today than ever before. Boosting them even more would force many thousands of qualified students to curtail their educations.

As reported in recent surveys, practically every college has financial headaches already. Many will run in the red this year and will engage in fund-raising drives merely to balance their books. The prospect of finding additional cash to prepare for the needs of tomorrow can only be classed as grim.

Just how much must be found,
in roughly another decade or so,
was revealed at a recent meeting of the American Council on Education. Dr. Arthur S. Adams, president, said adequate housing,
and classrooms alone would cost some $12,000,000,000. And besides putting up new buildings, he added, the schools must recruit and pay about 100,000 new teachers.

It is truly a staggering challenge, but one that will have to be met. At stake is essential training for America's future leadership, on which may depend our survival.

3,710,761 Tons of Coal Produced in State During October

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Coal production in Illinois totaled 3,710,761 tons
last month, the State Mines and Minerals Department reported today. This compared with 3,528-992 tons mined the previous month and 4,394,039 tons in October, 1953.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Mc-Carthy Lobbyists Use Communist Pressure Tactics;
Trainload Of McCarthyites
Embarks From New York To Storm Capital; Some Senators Appear Cowed By Lobbying Pressure.

WASHINGTON—A middle-aged woman opened the Senate office building door of Sen. Earle Clements of Kentucky and stepped inside.

Abruptly she asked the stenographer sitting at a desk near the door:

"Whom are you for?"

Senator Clements' secretary was perplexed. The woman visitor had not announced herself, had given no name, but on her breast was a large button. It read: "God bless Joe."

The intruder did not give the senator's secretary much time to ponder.

"Whom do you work for?" she demanded.

This again was a weird question, since the door of the office was plainly marked: "Senator Clements of Kentucky."

Before the senator's secretary could answer, the visitor blurted out: "Ah ha! You won't tell whom you work for. That shows where you stand—afraid to tell whom you work for!"

And she flounced out.

Thus operate the Joe-must-stay lobbyists who have descended on the Capital like a swarm of locusts.

BEHIND JOE'S LOBBY

Sen. Joe McCarthy borrowed a page from the Communist book
when he imported organized demonstrators to try to stampede the Senate into voting down the censure resolution. Backstage story can now be told of their noisy march on Washington.

Their spiritual leader was Rabbi Benjamin Schultz who, ironically, joined forces with the nation's most poison-mouthed anti-Semite, Gerald L. K. Smith. Under an assumed name, Smith also slipped into town to help organize the demonstration for McCarthy.

Smith registered as "Stephen Goodyear" in room 1017 of the Mayflower hotel, not far from Rabbi Schultz's room. Both spent most of their time on Capitol Hill, huddling with pro-McCarthy senators and herding the demonstrators around.

Significantly, the McCarthyite invasion followed the same pattern
as the frequent Communist marches on Washington, when the Reds have poured into town to try to influence Congress.

Like the Reds, the McCarthyites got their instructions from professional organizers, who acted as pep leaders. They came bearing placards, shouting slogans—a boisterous but disciplined mob. They also swarmed into the Senate gallery and trooped from office to office in small groups, pressuring senators.
Down to the last detail, this is the standard Communist technique.

The McCarthyites were recruited mainly from freedom clubs and McCarthy clubs that Joe has been organizing in Brooklyn, Boston, and a few other cities. The main contingent, estimated at about 650, boarded a 7:30 a. m. train at New York City's Pennsylvania station.
A copy of the "Tablet," a Catholic publication of Brooklyn, was waiting on each seat. This contained an inflammatory defense of McCarthy, including his word-for-word attack on the Watkins committee.

As the train chugged toward Washington, the professional organizers wandered down the aisles, giving instructions and whipping up enthusiasm. Significantly, they denounced both Republicans and Democrats alike.

One beetle-browed pep leader assailed President Eisenhower as "soft" on communism and proposed Senator McCarthy for chief.

This was greeted with cheers.
When the train pulled into Washington's Union station, the demonstrators were greeted by a District of Columbia police officer who warned it was against the law for them to parade their placards on Capitol Hill. The McCarthyites boomed him down. Nevertheless, the organizers were careful to collect all the placards before they moved on the Senate. Instead they handed out several mimeographed protests for the demonstrators to sign and present to various senators.

WHO PROMOTED PERESS?

In the past, Red demonstrations in Washington have had little effect upon Congress. But the Mc-Carthy pressure tactics seem to have some of the solons cowed —
particularly Senator Case of South Dakota. Perhaps this is because the only mail being received is from the McCarthyites. Though all the polls, plus the election returns, show that McCarthy's public following has dropped, the mail
has been lopsided in his favor.
Perhaps this may be because the McCarthyites take the trouble to write, while those against him don't.

It may also be because the tactics of some McCarthyites are so rabid. One of their favorite tricks is to call up a senator known to be against McCarthy, in the middle of the night, and shout over the phone: "Who promoted Peress?"
Then the caller hangs up.

These anonymous calls have so disrupted the sleep of some senators that they have had their phones disconnected.

Also chiming in the propaganda
chorus is Col. Robert H. Williams of Los Angeles, the noted anti-Semite who claims that President Eisenhower is a captive of "Marxism internationalists." In the past, Williams has distributed a cropped
photo, taken in Berlin right after the war, of Eisenhower sitting with Marshal Zhukov, the Soviet commanding general in Berlin. It is no secret, of course, that Eisenhower and Zhukov tried to keep the Russian and American armies friendly, but the gory description

given in "Williams Intelligence Summary" is geared to give the connotation that Eisenhower is a tool of communism.

All these irresponsible forces have been brought to bear on the Senate, plus the voices of some well-meaning people who seem sincerely to believe the statement of Cardinal Spellman's assistant,
Msgr. Edward Martin, that Mc-Carthy is being censured because of his Catholicism. Whatever the motive, it adds up to one of the most concentrated pressure drives
in recent Senate history.

THE QUEEN AND A WESTERN

Her Majesty, the queen mother of England, relaxed from her round of official duties to take in Broadway's top musical hit "Pajama Game"; and afterwards was escorted to the dressing room of the star, John Raitt.

"I suppose," said Mr. Raitt,
"that there were some things in the show that you didn't understand."

Queen Elizabeth said she had learned a lot of American words since her arrival here, but admitted that there were some that still went over her head.

"For instance," she asked,
"what is a western?"

"A western," replied Raitt, "is a sandwich made of a fried egg,
with ham, tomatoes, green peppers, and onion all mixed up."
"It sounds perfectly delicious,"

University of Illinois Studies Training Needed for Mentally Handicapped Children

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill. —
What training should be given mentally handicapped children to make them as happy and as useful as their capabilities permit?

The University of Illinois is carrying on pioneering work to find answers to this question. In its Institute for Research on Exceptional Children, four studies on retarded children are now under way.
A fifth has been completed and is being prepared for publication.

According to Prof. Samuel A.
Kirk, director of the Institute, the biggest obstacle to expanding the program for retarded children is not lack of public interest but the shortage of highly trained personnel to conduct these studies. Illinois is the only university offering graduate training of this kind where an organized research program on exceptional children is being carried on.

Projects in Progress

The research projects on mentally handicapped children now in progress at Illinois include:

1. Trainability of mentally handicapped children in the public schools, a two-year study for the State Office of Public Instruction,
now in its second year.

2. Trainability of mongoloid mentally retarded children, conducted at the Lincoln State School, Lincoln.

3. Trainability of brain-injured children, conducted at Dixon State School, Dixon, to determine whether these children can profit from intensive instruction based on thorough diagnosis.

4. Effects of the mentally-retarded child on his family, a study being carried out jointly by the Institute and the University's department of sociology in cooperation with the Office of Public Welfare.
Financial support for the three latter studies, covering the salaries of 18 assistants to the Institute staff members engaged in these projects, is supplied from the Mental Health Fund of the Department of Public Welfare and other research grants.

The fifth pioneering research experiment in the education of mentally retarded children, now completed, is the University's five-year study of pre-school mentally retarded children which was financed by the State Office of Public Instruction, the Champaign public schools, and the U. S. Public Health Service. Results will be published in the near future.

These five studies represent the activities of the Institute in a single area. Other research is being conducted on gifted, blind, deaf, and cerebral palsied children. More than $120,000 for research was contributed this year by outside agencies interested in the work.

Permanent staff members of the Institute in addition to Prof. Kirk, its director, are Prof. Oliver P.
Kolstoe, formerly of the State University of Iowa, and Prof. James Gallagher, formerly at the Pennsylvania State University, State College, Pa. Prof. Edward Hulett of the department of sociology is engaged part-time in Institute studies.

American Awards

Americans, at one time or another, have won Nobel prizes in all award categories — physics, chemistry, medicine and physiology, literature, and peace.

The youthful short glove holds first place in fashion importance for fall and winter. This year, it comes in colored pigskins that are soft and textured. We show the classic long evening glove (upper left) in tissue-fine white kid leather scattered over with hundreds of tiny crystals. Dressy glove (lower left) is in thin quartz-pink leather, has flaired and scalloped top. Polished-pine antelope shortie (center) is constructed with leather-wedged palm for safe grip on the wheel when you're driving. Double-buckled hand-stitched shortie (upper right) in gold wheat peccary has chunky finger treatment for smart, squared-off look. Parchment-colored pigskin glove (lower right) also has new eased-up, boxy look.—By Gaile Dugas, NEA Women's Editor.

Union Chapel Amanda Reynolds Missionary Society Meets

The Amanda Reynolds Missionary society of the Union Chapel General Baptist church met at the church recently for the regular monthly meeting.

Since November is the month of Thanksgiving the meeting was opened by singing "America, the Beautiful," followed by prayer. The lesson, "For What Shall We Be Thankful," was taught by Mrs. Sylvia Fowler, assisted by Mrs. Louise Brinkley, with devotion from Luke 17th chapter and Psalm 100th chapter. The study was on India, Pakistan and Ceylon, dealing mainly with how they became independent and how they overcame some very serious problems. The three flags of these colonies were presented by Mrs. Ola Mazaros and she explained the meaning of the various symbols on them.

The business meeting followed with the reports from the various officers. The aim of the society is to have each member praying daily for missions. The next regular meeting of the society will be Dec. 8.

U. S. Preparing New Pact to Guard Formosa

WASHINGTON — The United States is attempting to fashion a new treaty that will guard Formosa against a Communist attack without committing the United States to war on the Red-held China mainland, American officials said today.

Nationalist China also is being pressed to give the United States some assurances that it will not engage in any unjustified provocative attacks against the Communists once the treaty is signed.

The question of a defense pact has been complicated by the continuing Red threats to liberate Formosa and counter threats by Chiang Kai-Shek to invade the mainland. U. S. policy stands behind the Nationalists but this government does not want to spark a new war in the Far East.

Experts said the American-Nationalist negotiations, underway for a year, are pointed toward the type of pact signed more than a year ago by the United States with the Republic of Korea.

The Korean pact was signed notwithstanding American fears that Korean President Syngman Rhee would make good his threats to march against North Korea.

In explaining the Korean treaty to Congress, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles pointed out that the United States would not be committed to any war of aggression. He said the treaty's language provided that the pact would not apply if an armed attack were initiated by a country against "any territory not under its administrative control."

This formula apparently would be satisfactory to the United States in any new treaty with Nationalist China.

Hiss to Face New Questioning When Released

WASHINGTON — A dual move developed in Congress today to call Alger Hiss for questioning when the former high-ranking State Department official is released from prison a week from Saturday.

Chairman Harold H. Velde (R-Ill.) said the House Un-American Activities Committee would consider the proposal at a closed meeting today. Hiss was sent to a federal penitentiary on a perjury charge as an outgrowth of testimony before the same committee in 1948.

Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich.), a committee member defeated for re-election Nov. 2, asked that Hiss be questioned again. Clardy said Hiss should shed more light about his part in the Whittaker Chambers spy ring, about his connection with the 1945 Yalta Conference where he was technical adviser to President Roosevelt and about his work as secretary general of the conference that set up the United Nations.

Across the Capitol, Chairman William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) told a reporter his Senate Internal Security subcommittee probably also will want to question Hiss, possibly in a new field-alleged Communist infiltration of congressional committees.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Always come to a complete stop at a Stop sign. Failure to make a complete stop, as required by law (Section 56c, Uniform Act Regulating Traffic), is one of the most frequently recurring reasons for lower score and possible failure in the drivers license examination, our inspectors report.

Drivers of cars with automatic transmissions show a marked tendency to "creep" past Stop signs, while those driving cars with manual shifts are inclined to slow down, shift into second and go ahead.

Either practice does not give you time enough to look in all directions to make sure no traffic is close enough to be a hazard. The safe way, as well as the legally required way, is to come to a full stop, look in all directions, and when you are sure the way is clear, go ahead.

A copy of the completely new "Rules of the Road" booklet will be sent to you free upon request. Write to CHARLES F. CARPENTIER, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois.

OLDSMOBILE SUPER "88" HOLIDAY A LUXURY CAR — Oldsmobile's 1955 Super "88" Holiday Coupe combines colorful styling with luxurious upholstery and many motoring refinements. The flying colors motif as applied to body finish utilizes the sweeping side moulding for color separation. Front end design has been completely restyled, with recessed headlights and new bumper contour. Seats are upholstered in genuine leather and nylon cloth, each material being offered in five color choices. The panoramic windshield offers excellent forward vision. Power is supplied by a 202-h.p. "Rocket" engine with 8.5 to 1 compression ratio. Power steering, power brakes, electric-powered windows and a new Oldsmobile air conditioning system are optional accessories at extra cost. The new Oldsmobiles will be on display Friday at Humm Motor Co., local dealer.

1955 Oldsmobile on Display Friday; New Color Styling, More Horsepower

Oldsmobile for 1955 with a new and more advanced concept of two-tone body color, engineering improvements and a completely restyled appearance goes on display Friday at the Humm Motor Co., local dealer.

The "88" series and the Super "88" series both are powered by a 202-horsepower "Rocket" engine with 8.5 to 1 compression ratio.

Oldsmobile's low silhouette and wide vision panoramic windshield are enhanced by the flying colors styling that Oldsmobile designers have incorporated in the 1955 models. Oldsmobile again presents three series of cars with a total of 10 body types. There are three Fisher body styles in the luxury "88" series—four-door sedan, deluxe Holiday coupe and Starfire (convertible). The Super "88" series has four body types—four-door sedan, two-door sedan, Holiday coupe and convertible coupe. In the economy-priced "88" series are four-door sedan, Holiday coupe and two-door sedan.

Distinguishing the front end appearance of the 1955 Oldsmobile are the recessed headlights, with chrome-lined caps that extend two inches beyond the lens at the top, the name Oldsmobile spelled out in chrome block letters across the upper bumper bar and a more rugged bumper that curves gracefully into the fender contours at each end of the grille opening.

Improvement of "Rocket" engine power, torque and performance has been achieved through newly designed combustion chambers, higher lift camshaft and valves, larger exhaust valves, cooler operating sparkplugs and full chrome top piston rings. Horsepower is raised to 202-h.p. in the "88" and Super "88" and to 185-h.p. in the "88" series, with compression ratio at 8.5 to 1 in all series.

A new feature in 1955 is the offering of the 202-h.p. "Rocket" engine as optional equipment at extra cost on the "88" series.

Two-tone color styling, which has proved so popular with the motoring public since its introduction by Oldsmobile in 1954, again plays an important part in Oldsmobile's appearance. The stainless steel side moulding that extends nearly the length of the cars in all body types is used for the color separation.

Quit Worrying, Doctor Advises Nervous Wives

CHICAGO 4P—Wives who nag their husbands and scream at their children should quit worrying and go to bed at nine o'clock.

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez, former chairman of the Mayo Clinic department of medicine, offered that prescription in a speech to a women's medical group this week.

Alvarez said some women make their families miserable because: "Many get so terribly tired and on edge that they are now shrieking at their children and fussing at a perfectly good husband.

"Many at times behave childishly and lose their husbands' respect and love.

"Many want a perfectly normal, rowdy little boy to become a sweet 'Lord Fauntleroy'."

"Many are constantly digging up old bones and talking over old annoyances and griefs and injustices.

"Many worry stupidly over things that are preposterous or things that will probably never happen.

"Many regularly spend 10 dollars worth of energy on a 10 cent task."

Advice for Both Kinds

Alvarez described two kinds of nervous women—those who inherit "a tendency to fret and stew and worry" and overworked mothers who "have acquired fatigue and nervousness honorably."

He had some advice for both kinds.

"They must learn to make up their minds, stick by decisions, become more adult and to do everything 'almost automatically.'"

"Don't neglect your husband for the children," he warned. "Then, at 55, when you try to snuggle up to him, he'll wonder who the strange woman is."

Also, he said, they should go to bed at 9 o'clock instead of 1:30 in the morning.

As for the husbands, Alvarez advised that "often a little help in the kitchen at night will do the woman immensely more good than an operation."

Alvarez added that he, himself, has been happily married "for a good many years" and has four grown children.

Horace Mann PTA Observes American Education Week

American Education Week, Nov. 8-13, was observed by the Horace Mann PTA with a special meeting held Monday afternoon.

Refreshments of coffee and cookies were served in the upper halls.

During the regular business meeting of the PTA reports from various committees were made and those responsible for the supper and carnival were especially commended. A donation was voted to the Santa Claus fund.

For Tender, More Flavorful Turkey

"How to be a better cook and save money, too!"
Turkeys now come in sizes to fit the number of your guests—from 5-pound "apartment size" to 30-pound "family" size. When buying your turkey, remember:

"Dressed" turkeys are picked but not drawn. Allow about 1 1/4 pounds per person when you buy market-dressed or New York dressed turkeys.

"Ready to roast" turkeys, either fresh or frozen, are cleaned—just stuff and roast. Allow about 1 pound per person when you buy "drawn" turkey.

When roasting turkey

Defrost frozen birds in refrigerator or at room temperature if time is limited. Remove outer wrappings, cover loosely with waxed paper, and place in shallow pan. Allow about 6 hours per pound defrosting time in refrigerator, and about 1 hour per pound to thaw at room temperature. Place stuffed turkey on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in slow oven (325° F.):

20-25 min. per lb. Small Turkey (6-10 lbs.)
18-20 min. per lb. Medium Turkey (10-16 lbs.)
15-18 min. per lb. Large Turkey (16-25 lbs.)

Baste turkey about every half hour, after first hour of roasting, for crisp, brown bird.
